

Being Human

Origin of Consciousness

A theory by Ted Harrison

How Divine Intervention, near-death experiences and artificial Intelligence reveal the origin of consciousness.

MATERIALISM:

Materialism | Definition of Materialism by Merriam-Webster

“A theory that physical matter is the only or fundamental reality and that all being and processes and phenomena can be explained as manifestations or results of matter.”

Isn't it interesting that our thousands of years fruitless search for the origin of consciousness is based on an unproven material THEORY? Material Science has completely failed to answer any of the big picture questions we have been searching for since the beginning of time.

What is the end result of materialism?
Disease, death, destruction.
Life is the opposite of materialism.

I personally experienced a Miracle – Divine Intervention, that prevented me from running over a 2yr. old little boy who ran out directly in front of my truck. Where does my experience fit into the above theory of life? Of course, it doesn't! There is so much evidence, based on all of our personal experiences, that proves that the theory of materialism to be incorrect. The fact is, God, Heaven, and all Spirituality have no place in the theory of materialism. Why then do we rely on material science to find the answers to the big picture questions we desperately need answers to? We have millions of people, billions of dollars spent, and tens of thousands of years of materially searching for the origin of life. The true fact is – There is no theory of how life is formed materially inside the body, how our Minds, Intelligence, Intellect, all the intangible aspects of our lives, are created materially.

I have personally been searching for those answers for 7 years – there are no answers – period. Quite logically, the material origin of life is impossible, because the LOVING CREATOR, the almighty higher power has been cut out of the equation.

Here are the results – Material Science cannot prove in any way, that Life is created materially inside the body or anywhere in this universe. From the beginning, a baby was born alive, our natural assumption was that life was formed inside the child. We have been trying since the beginning to prove that life came from that material phenomena, with no success at all.

Being Human Theory contradicts that unproven erroneous assumption - that intangible life can be created materially inside the body. Read on to find out how the process of life is created. Materialism is a completely false theory. We cannot solve an equation that is false to begin with.

What gives me the credibility to write is article - I have personal proof of the Higher Power.

If our conscious minds were created materially in the body, our minds must be constructed with material elements of some kind. If this were the case, eternal life would be impossible, as matter cannot escape the body at death! If it could, we would be able to see or monitor its movement. That has never been observed or recorded. We don't see people's brains flying away when someone passes on. There is no evidence whatsoever, that our minds are created materially inside the body - none. Fortunately for us, there is insurmountable evidence that we do have eternal life. We have suffered the consequences for centuries of the conflict between religion, and science, not realizing that both creation and evolution are correct. Material Science has delivered fantastic developments and technology for our benefit, but cannot deliver material solutions to big picture questions. Material Science has no accommodation for spiritual phenomena - deny, discredit, ridicule, or ignore are the common responses of materialism. What is the conclusion?

It is impossible for matter to create mind.

Devine Science

Has anyone considered what the science, and technology of Heaven is? If God created this universe, what kind of intelligence, energy, engineering ability, materials, and process would that require? Is it possible for the 'creation' to be more advanced than the 'creator'? Are we smarter than God?

This article is based on this simple fact - that material-based science, sense, physics, chemistry, et al – cannot explain all of the phenomena and recorded historical events that we have experienced through our recorded history and continue to experience today. Simply stated, our 5 senses cannot explain everything that we experience in this life and in this universe – "There is more to life than meets the eye"

Unexplained Phenomena

Gimbal: The First Official UAP Footage from the USG for Public Release

Even the US Navy has finally admitted that they can't deny or explain what they experience regularly. What are we viewing here? This is simply a demonstration of non-material science - out of this world technology. These images appear randomly, display technology we can monitor, but not explain, then disappear. There is no tracking of these images coming from outer space, no aliens inside, no interference with Human activity, merely just a clue of what is possible beyond our human sense and capability. There is no evidence that there is intelligent extraterrestrial life anywhere else in our universe, believing differently is science fiction. Any unexplained phenomena are merely paranormal demonstrations – clues of the higher power, that material science disavows and ignores. What entity could create this demonstration? This is just a demonstration of the advanced higher technology of Heaven.

Paranormal

Not scientifically explainable: supernatural

Devine Intervention

My experience

How do we start to explain things that seem to be unexplainable? The first step for me was to accept and embrace the concept that we really don't know all that much yet in our limited material knowledge base.

You see, material science is not absolute. It is always in flux. What we think we believe is considered law, until we receive or discover new information that supersedes the old. Just over 500 years ago, material science proclaimed that the world was flat. If you questioned that fact, you would be ridiculed and labeled "crazy". Now we stand on the Moon and look back on Earth, and see it is as small sphere. What changed? – nothing, the reality is the same, except our knowledge and perception expanded, and the people that still believe the world is flat are the "crazies" now.

Have you ever experienced an event or a situation that can't be rationally explained by material sense or science? I'm sure most of us have. Here is one of my experiences.

I was driving my old Chevy Pickup home from my rental property in east Stockton, CA a few years ago. I take the back streets as a shortcut through an unincorporated neighborhood without sidewalks. As I turned onto one of the side streets, most of the parked cars on the street were parallel parked like most streets, but in front of several houses on the right side there were 6 vehicles parked perpendicularly, close together. As I was driving normally at about 30 mph. I noticed several people talking on what would have been the sidewalk in front of the last 2 of these cars. As I approached the first car, I received an interesting thought –

WHAT IF A YOUNG CHILD RAN OUT BETWEEN THOSE CARS?

Fortunately, being a former race car driver, I reacted quickly to this information, and hit my brakes, just then a small boy about 2 years old sprinted out between the last 2 cars and stopped directly in front of me. I stopped 5 feet short of hitting him, as his mother frantically ran out after him and scooped the young lad up in her arms, the look on her face I will not forget. I didn't interact with her as she made eye contact with me but turned and went back to her house, and we were both processing what had just happened, and the consequences of what might have been.

As I came to the stop sign at the end of the street, I asked the "voice in my head" what just happened? There was just silence. --- OK, I get it – I need to figure out the meaning of this event, and why it happened to me - on my own. I have been analyzing it ever since. The message was delivered as a thought, the same as any other of the millions of thoughts I have had before. The information was delivered to me in the form of a question, instead of – WATCH OUT, YOU ARE GOING TO RUN OVER A LITTLE BOY! Why was it in the form of a question is an important clue. Also, the information I had no way of perceiving from my material senses was delivered at the last possible moment. It was up to me to quickly process and react in milliseconds, to avoid a tragedy. I believe I was being tested, in an extreme way.

The message was sent before the boy ran out into the street, another important clue.

Of course, the main issue is where did the information come from, I had no idea that little boy was standing next to his mother, as the vehicles were blocking my view, and I was looking down the street. Who or what entity could have known what I was doing, and the intent of that little child to sprint out into the path of my truck? Interesting, isn't it? Most might classify this event as a "Premonition", but I classify it as a direct transfer of information from an unseen source. Working towards understanding who or what that source is, is one of the purposes of this article.

I got a message from God – is the likely explanation, but that in itself conjures up centuries of debate, conflict, unresolved beliefs and differences in culture and religion. The world has been debating this subject for millennia, basically who are we as a species, and why are we here? How am I, a former self employed auto electric shop owner, who forgave a traditional formal education, to follow my dream of being a race car builder, owner and driver, qualified to interject any meaningful opinion or information on this subject? You see I learned on a “need to know” basis, if I needed to solve a problem, I would find the information I needed, and make my own determinations, instead of relying on the norm. Was I right all the time? Of course not, but the lessons learned have served me well. I have looked back at my life and the path it has taken, and realized it is unique, different, but not random or haphazard. That actually may be a benefit, as I relish unconventional thinking, and exploring outside the box. How far outside the box?

What is meant by 6th Sense?

Sixth Sense | Definition of Sixth Sense

An ability that some people believe they have that seems to give them information without using the five senses of sight, hearing, touch, smell, or taste: A sixth sense told me that the train was going to crash. – or that a young child was going to run out between those cars.

Some would describe this event as a miracle, something extraordinary. What do you think?

Miracle

Miracle | Definition of Miracle

Definition #3 is interesting:

Christian Science: (1875) a divinely natural phenomenon experienced humanly as the fulfillment of spiritual law.

Divinely natural would imply that it is not an extraordinary event; we should expect it? What is spiritual law? Just how far can we expand our intellectual capacity to understand concepts beyond our human senses?

How big is the Universe?

Man in black - ending HD

It all depends on our perspective. We have the intellectual ability to comprehend complex abstract concepts not constrained by our limited sensual perception. We can easily contemplate concepts even beyond our own universe, if we turn off our material senses, shut our eyes, we can imagine anything. Just like standing on the Moon changed our perspective, we can extrapolate the progression we have made exponentially, based on our progress of thinking the world is flat to exploring Mars.

You see our institutions mostly teach material science as an absolute, but can this science explain everything that is going on around us? We all know there are things that don't fit in the nice tidy boxes that material science requires, yet we still try to fit them in, like pounding square pegs into round holes, they will NEVER fit!

That gets us to the “big picture questions” such as - who are we? Why are we here? where did we come from? - that not many are comfortable discussing - why is that? That is an interesting question, who or what influence is causing us to hesitate, could it be that the material scientists don't have much evidence, and can't admit they don't know? Billions of people, millions of scientists – where are the answers? Why haven't we made more progress? We send People to the Moon, rovers to Mars, probes into deep space, and land on asteroids. It's amazing science, spectacular. But are we any closer today to understanding who we really are, than 2000 years ago when Christ Jesus walked the Earth? I don't think so. Can the answers to these questions be answered by religious beliefs, and doctrines? If we have looked so hard, for so long, and have minimal results --

Simple logic would say, with a high degree of probability - that we are looking in the wrong places.

If we have a complex mathematical equation to solve, and at the beginning we make an assumption based on the logic and knowledge known to be readily accepted as true at the time, but is not correct - will we ever come to the correct solution, no matter how long we keep going down the wrong path? No.

What if that is the case when it comes to understanding who we really are?

Just like in the equation above, unless we go back and find the possible mistake made at the beginning, and correct it, everything that comes after will not be correct.

So, let's start over, all the way back to the beginning, to the basic definition of who we are. Our species is named Homo Sapiens, which the dictionary lists as “Humankind” not much help there. So, let's look at our more common name Human Being. The human part is well documented and understood. What about the word “being”?

Who are we?

Being | Definition of Being

#1 is the established definition, accepted as truth:

1a: the quality or state of having existence

Why do we need to state this fact -- Isn't it self-evident?

Don't other species have existence?

We don't say Dog Beings,

This definition is irrational.

#2 is similar to #1

That brings us to #3

3: a living thing
especially: PERSON

VERY INTERESTING –

WHAT IF OUR “HUMAN” AND OUR “BEING”, ARE SEPARATE ENTITIES?

WHAT IF LIFE COMES FROM THE BEING, INSTEAD OF THE HUMAN?

Why do we have 2 words describing us? Horses don't, dogs, cats, dolphins, elephants, rattlesnakes. You see early on we trusted our material senses, that life is formed in the Human state, as the miracle of birth seems to tell our human senses.

Moses wrote in the book of Genesis 1:27 - God created Man in his Image and Likeness – We thought he was talking about the Human - but that would imply that God is Human, which is illogical, those assumptions are wrong. What if we misunderstood what he was telling us? If real, we describe the idea of God as a Spiritual entity or Being - we are Human Beings - Why is the same word in both descriptions? What if we replace definition # 1 and move # 3 to the top as the true definition of who we are? Well it changes everything! Centuries ago, our abstract intellect wasn't strong enough to consider #3 a viable option, but we have progressed to the point where we can contemplate that possible reality. This would explain the Biblical phrase “we are the Children of God”

WHAT IF WE ACTUALLY ARE SPIRITUAL BEINGS?

You see material existence is temporal, we always assumed that life was generated inside the Human form. What if that is the mistake made thousands of years ago? The Bible describes the concept of Heaven, but it has never been explained to us in logical terms. Material science has theorized multiple extra dimensions, but described them as material in origin. What if, by the way we are designed with limited Human perception intentionally, we don't have the ability to “see” the other dimension we call Heaven, that I am going to label – the Unseen Dimension, even though we comprehend and feel the effects of it. What if the unseen dimension (Heaven) is interlaced with the material dimension by design. We exist in the material, but are connected to the unseen one. We would then be bi-dimensional entities.

Human – Being

You see- if we separate the two titles that describe who we are - into unique separate entities, created individually, the Human created materially in this dimension, the Being created spiritually in the Unseen Dimension we describe as Heaven, our definition of life becomes more realistic, more easy to comprehend – because we lose the material physical restraints that limit the reality of who we really are. It is a popular perception that when our time here on Earth ends, our Spirit/Soul departs the body – the inverse of that would be that our Spirit/Soul (BEING) would be assigned at the moment of birth, Up until that point, the Human baby is developed and sustained by the mothers body. A baby is born, a Being is assigned, we open our eyes, take our first breath – our Journey in this dimension commences.

Crazy you say – possibly

But if we open up our intellect to the possibilities that that we are more than what material sense constrains us to, we expand into a whole new reality that allows us to comprehend all the things that up until now, are unexplainable. Our ancient perception of birth was incomplete. We thought Life originated materially in the body. We could not consider anything else because we relied only on our physical perception, which has always proven to not depict and explain everything that is going on around us.

We are Living Beings that are temporarily Human, the Bible says so, the dictionary says so if we use the right definition. This theory would depict that life does not originate in this dimension, and explain why we can't find tangible evidence of life originating on Earth. - Looking for Life in all the wrong places.

PEOPLE ARE BEINGS, NOT BODIES!

What part of your body actually defines who you really are?
-- None of it!

We are individual Beings, with no tangible material qualities, not originating in this dimension. We are created with the pure and true love of God, and the Divine science and materials of Heaven. We are a spiritual ball of energy and intelligence, intangible to material sense and perception. We are assigned to a human form we call the body, required to navigate this material realm. We have been sent here for reasons to be discussed later. An example would like the machines we create that enable us to go beyond our physical limitations, such as we climb into our cars, airplanes, or spaceships to travel beyond the limited capabilities of our humanoid. The body without the Being has no ability to operate itself, just like our cars sitting there waiting to have us operate them. We are developing "Artificial Intelligence to mimic this dynamic, quite possibly the reason we do so is subconsciously trying to understand this relationship, not just for the material benefits. The reason we can't find where life comes from - is that it comes from our co-dimension, intangible to human sense, but felt through our 6th sense as a tangible source that we rely on more than we realize. All forms of Life originate there. The explanation of this is that we can't find tangible evidence of life originating on planet Earth or in our Universe - after searching for thousands of years. If this is plausible, the co-dimension misnamed as Heaven, would then actually be our HOME, where we originated and came from. This is where our Family and Friends that have lived in this dimension before us reside, if they have managed to succeed in getting back there. That would explain the strong attraction we have to what religions describe as Heaven, but more intense if we actually came from there. Heaven is actually Home, where we were born, in the Unseen Dimension (UD).

If this is plausible, we as Beings would have eternal life, by design, no matter what happens to our Human Body that we are occupying for the duration of our stay here on Earth, for however long or short it may be. Eternal life is not something we are gifted at some point, but already have. How to get back Home is another issue to be discussed forthright, and also the reasons why we are here is another big question. Gender, ethnicity, and all human conditions and differences do not emanate from the Being, they come from the material body. All of our material challenges, by design are part of the reasons we are sent here to see if we can coexist and overcome these differences.

If this theory is possible, as there is evidence all around us that points to it being so –

How would it change our lives?

If we go back and change the equation of who we really are, does the path of life we have been traveling change completely, should we be going in the opposite direction?

Religions were formed in reaction to unfathomable events. Events that we could not properly perceive, nor explain their true meaning, because of our lack of knowledge, and our limited intellectual capacity at the time. Most every culture, from primitive to advanced has tried to comprehend events beyond the limited perception of our human senses, but have failed to explain these events fully to this day - HOW did Jesus walk on water? The answer is he understood and utilized the power of the UD, the Power of which overwhelms the limited material forces of our universe. He simply understood Divine Intervention (Divine Assistance), and utilized, and demonstrated it to the highest degree. The same way “alien ships” streak across the sky today, demonstrating the superior science and physics of the UD. Aliens are not from another planet or galaxy. They are clues sent to teach us from the Unseen Dimension, that there is more to life than what we can comprehend in our limited physical senses of life here on earth, or any other planet in this universe. How do we utilize this “out of this universe” force?

Near-Death Experiences

The greatest demonstration that Being Human theory is correct.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=CJP5E9hVbWQ>

There have been millions of reported accounts of near-death experiences. Such experiences may encompass a variety of sensations including detachment from the body, feelings of levitation, total serenity, security, warmth, the experience of absolute dissolution, and the presence of a light. Most people take extraordinary journeys escaping the bounds of this material dimension, and their body. What is the science that allows this demonstration? Our Spirit/Soul, our conscience, intelligent minds, our being, every non material quality we possess has no material elements. Our beings are not detectable by the body’s material senses. No one sees the spirit/soul/being leave or return. This fact alone demonstrates the basis of this theory, that our conscious, intelligent minds can be created in Heaven, assigned to our bodies at the moment of birth, and no human can detect this phenomenon with their human senses. But we can sense this joyful moment with our 6th sense, which we experience with our heart, not our brain. Birth is a dual celebration: a beautiful baby human is born, and a miraculous child of God has been sent to join us other Beings in this material world.

How can our Being operate without the body? We contain the power, energy, life of Heaven. This energy is unlimited, naturally supported continuously from our maker in Heaven.

Our minds don’t need to eat, drink, breathe to sustain ourselves. We merely rely on the constant connection to Heaven we were created with, the Love of God.

Material science cannot give insight into this spiritual experience. This is one of the easiest phenomena to explain. Eternal Life is the cornerstone of most beliefs, that when our human body stops functioning and dies, that our spirit/soul – (being) escapes the body and goes somewhere else. Near death is a demonstration of exactly that process. The body dies, by design our spirit/soul/being departs the body. As our journey to our next destination (home to Heaven, or assigned somewhere else) we pause to see if our work in this world is complete. Some people knowing that the medical team is trying to revive their dead body, observe their frantic work from above. How can the being see? Our human brain and eyes are dead in the non-functioning body. Beings have incredible sensory perception, constructed with out of this world Divine Science. Divine Beings don’t need eyes to ‘see’. Then they wake up, returned to the body, the pain rushes back, the medical team was successful in reviving the dead body back to life. They share this miraculous experience in vivid detail. Material science says they were hallucinating, dreaming, under the effects of medication, of course denying that eternal life is possible. Millions of accounts of the transition to eternal life, demonstrating that our minds (beings) can seamlessly, naturally, divinely exit and re-enter the human body. Millions of people demonstrating and documenting that Being Human Theory is correct. Divine perception allows beings outside of a body to have full perception without material senses.

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE

Our society has technologically advanced so far in the last few years that we now have developed man-made intelligence. So how does this advancement relate to our search for the origin of our own conscious intelligence. To create man-made intelligence required a monumental effort from millions of brilliant people, working diligently for decades to create the digital infrastructure, the computers, and software and processes needed to elevate our society to this high level of accomplishment. We can extrapolate that effort to what it took to create our consciousness by the Beings in the creative dimension – It took a society of Beings working diligently for a long period of time, to create the technology and processes to create our brilliant minds in the Divine Dimension.

SUPER ADRENALINE

When Fear Makes Us Superhuman

Boyle, it should be pointed out, is no pantywaist. He carries 280 pounds on a six-foot-four-inch frame. But think about this: The heaviest barbell that Boyle ever dead-lifted weighed 700 pounds. The world record is 1,008 pounds. A stock Camaro weighs 3,000 pounds. Even factoring leverage, something extraordinary was going on that night.

"There's no way I could lift that car right now," he says.

There are innumerable instances of this kind of event. Instantaneous Super Human physical strength, that beyond the event, the individual person can NEVER duplicate. Is it superhuman? or merely Divine Assistance, (a Miracle) – an unseen helping hand from the Unseen Dimension (HOME) in a critically potential life changing moment. From my own personal experiences, I KNOW the answer, what do you believe?

The "two voices in our head"

There are only two real influencers in this dimension, one good, the other evil. We are constantly being pulled between these two extreme forces, one positive, and one negative. This is the battle we have been sent here to wage, and learn from. In any material situation, in order to understand the right answer, to any question, or situation, there must be a negative, or wrong answer. Mathematics is possibly the greatest demonstration of this. $2+2 = 4$. How many possible wrong answers are there to this most simple equation? The answer is Infinite, one of the few examples of the use of the word infinite in the material world. Can we use the word Infinite to describe the Unseen Dimension? My response to that question is yes.

Why are we here?

We spend our early years here on Earth doing what? As very young children our parents teach us things, and we explore our new environment. Then we go off to school to get an education, that process can take decades. We then start our working careers – do we stop learning at any point? We shouldn't.

I believe that the main reasons we are here is:

To learn – and be tested in extreme conditions, and situations.

This world is so beautiful and inviting, but it can be a living hell.

Are we being trained to handle difficult situations, and react quickly under extreme pressure, with potential dire consequences? Of course we are – we are not here just to hang out and enjoy the pleasures of this beautiful planet. We have work to do to prepare us for what is coming in our future, here and beyond. This existence is an extreme training ground where we are tested to our limits – to see if we can pass the tests that we are continuously given. Every test we pass adds to our steadily increasing intellect, that defines who we are, and what we are capable of accomplishing.

We, as spiritual beings are sent here to learn, and be tested to see if we can make the right choices, and decisions - as we are tempted with material desires and pleasures that continually distract us from what we should be doing.

That doesn't mean we should not enjoy this beautiful material environment to the fullest, as long as we continue to learn the difference between the right and wrong choices we make.

Where do Thoughts and Ideas come from?

Let's say we have a challenging assignment or complex problem to solve. We start working on the problem, and start getting ideas to help us understand and work to find solutions. Do you think we self-generate this information? Or are we being fed this information incrementally as needed from somewhere else?

I believe that all good information has already been established, and is fed to us incrementally as we are willing to receive it, from the Unseen Dimension - Divine Assistance.

All bad information is also given to us as we allow it from Mortal Mind, who does not want us to succeed at anything. It wants you to make the wrong choices so you too can be trapped here in Hell, and not be able to graduate or return Home, to Heaven.

Do we develop and advance technology just to enhance our lives here?

Does technology make our lives better, or is there some underlying reason we keep advancing technological breakthroughs?

What if we are subconsciously looking for something else?

Are we always looking for answers to the big questions?

Intelligence

Is our Brain Intelligent?

Have we developed electro/mechanical versions of our biological selves?

Do our computers work without an operating system?

They turn on and light up. But they aren't capable of functioning or accomplishing anything else without the proper software installed.

The "Intelligence" comes from the operating system that allows our machines to be functional.

Our Brains are not "smart" they are the processor that operates the machine (body) on command from the Operating System.

Can we visually see software? No, we just see the effects of it.

We are the software (Operating System) that brings our body to Life. Without the Being, there is no intelligence - the body is dumb – nonfunctioning – idling – dead.

Is the history of who we really are stored in the cloud?

We come to this world (born) with limited intelligence, and intellect to match the limited capacity of our newborn human body. As our Body grows and matures, our intellect expands also. At some point our physical abilities decline, but our Being cannot diminish. Our Being's files are stored in the real "Cloud" in the Unseen Dimension, another clue that we are trying to mimic our true reality. It is quite possible that we have a very large file, as we may have existed long before our assignment here on Earth. We are sent here with minimal Intellect, but our true existence is probably quite substantial.

Unexplainable events and phenomena throughout history

If we allow ourselves to contemplate the possibility of this theory being plausible, that Heaven is real, and existentially more powerful than this material dimension, then explaining mysterious events becomes easier to understand. From Moses parting the Red Sea, to Jesus walking on water, healing the sick and dying, and defying death himself, to how the Pyramids were built, to Aliens, and Black Holes. Material Science always finds more questions than answers.

The Biggest Unsolved Mysteries in Physics

If we look at all such phenomena as clues to the puzzle of our true identity/existence, the science of Heaven can explain everything. All the pieces of the puzzle of life that we desperately want to fit into the material puzzle, but never will, fit seamlessly into the puzzle of the Unseen Dimension. We are Bi-dimensional and if we strive to understand this concept – more and more pieces start to find their natural placement. Expand your capacity to see the bigger picture, and the contentment of that understanding allows us to quit living in fear, and trepidation. We have unlimited support from Home (Heaven) that as we embrace it more confidently – the rewards come flowing to us exponentially!

Early in our history the clues that we have been given and misunderstood from the UD were extreme – fire and brimstone - to get our attention in an extreme way, like parting the Red Sea. As we have progressed the clues are more subtle, sophisticated, and intricate.

Clues all around us - an example

Jesus referred to himself by many names or descriptions. Let's look at 2 of them.

I am the Son of God

I am the Son of Man

What was He telling us?

What if we make this a simple equation?

Jesus = Son of God

Jesus = Son of Man

Is God material or spiritual?

If God is spiritual, what is Man?

God = Spiritual

Man = Spiritual, not material

Christ Jesus

How did Jesus walk on water, heal the sick, raise the dead? He simply understood his connection to Heaven/Home, his real identity, knowing who his true Father/Mother is, and utilized the POWER of the UD to perform his works. It has taken 2 millennium for us to understand what really took place.

Why didn't Jesus have a last name? Because his true existence demonstrated the bidimensional reality of Life - Christ (Heaven) - Jesus (Human) Which part of His existence allowed Him to defy material science/physics? well it wasn't the human part for sure!

Did Jesus die, and then resurrect himself? The common belief says so. But the true reality is that you can't kill the Being (Christ), only the body. Jesus used Devine Assistance to roll the stone away, and reappear and manipulate his damaged (dead) body – demonstrating the true fact of his existence here on Earth. Jesus healed the sick and raised the dead, but didn't heal or repair his own body after the crucifixion. Why? There were still open wounds from the demise of his body, a hole in his chest through his heart, which would indicate it was not beating...

Don Stewart :: What Were the Differences between Jesus' Body before and after His Resurrection?

"The body Jesus possessed, though like His pre-resurrection body, was in some aspects different. He could suddenly appear and disappear. In the locked upper room, Jesus suddenly appeared in the midst of His disciples. His new body had abilities the previous one either did not have or did not demonstrate. He did not have to eat or rest. He also ascended into heaven when his earthly ministry was finished. Consequently, there are similarities, as well as differences, between the body that Jesus had while upon the earth and the one in which he was raised."

Our conception of Jesus being a humble carpenter was based on our visible understanding of life 2000 years ago. In actuality, he understood and demonstrated - out of this world advanced technology, he was so "high tech" that he was able to demonstrate "Virtual Reality", a technology we have just started to understand and develop now. He reappeared "virtually" or "angel-like" to demonstrate our true existence beyond this dimension, that we are alive without a material body. His Being remained unchanged. The evidence supports this assumption. Jesus understood and demonstrated advanced technical prowess, that “blew away” those that were fortunate enough to witness it. Imagine if He were here today, the technology he would demonstrate would be incomprehensible, and spectacular, just as it was perceived 2000 years ago, similar to the way we can’t explain UFOs today.

A complete paradigm shift, that life doesn’t come from the body, it comes from Heaven – they thought they killed him, but YOU CAN’T KILL THE CHRIST – proving that our Beings have eternal life!

Jesus was the great Demonstrator, or teacher. “Follow Me, for I am the way” Do we expect our teachers to do the work for us? Is Jesus supposed to drag us along to the promised land? NO, we have to do the work ourselves, we are responsible for our own outcome in this life. We are all responsible for our own salvation. Our teachers never do the work for us, they instruct, guide and encourage us, exactly what Jesus did!

Philippians 2:12

Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling.

Now we have aliens, and black holes, and multitudes of other clues that are intended to provoke us to wake up and use our expanded intellect to understand this simple precedent:

We cannot explain all phenomena in material terms, because the SCIENCE of the unexplainable only exists in the Unseen Dimension.

The Power of Heaven

We talk a lot about the desire to “go to Heaven” What do you think life is like if or when we get there? What are People (Beings) doing in Heaven? Are they relaxing by the beach sipping matai’s? Based on my experience, I believe they are WORKING!

We have jobs to do when we get there. We are productive, otherwise we would have no purpose. When someone passes on from this material existence, we tell them to “rest in peace” we mourn their passing - why? Is this the goal, to “rest”? Our bodies are what wears out, and stop operating at some point. Our Beings can’t wear out or be tired – ever!

If you did nothing but rest all day long for eternity – how boring would that be?

Imagine the things we can accomplish without human constraints. Our centuries old conception of God standing by the “Pearly Gates” is archaic, envisioned by our lack of understanding of life 2 millennia ago. Heaven, the UD, is so completely advanced from our limited perception of science, technology, theology etc., that we really can’t comprehend it fully. We have advanced technologically so much in my lifetime (64 yrs.), that our expanding perception is truly starting to steamroll into the future. But what percentage of knowledge and understanding of the true or real database - in the UD (the real cloud) have we been given so far? 10% --1% --.000001%?

Heaven is “High Tech” and the creator of it.

These people designed and built this “universe”, that we temporarily occupy, specifically for us!

What kind of technology does that take?

Creation/Evolution/God

One of the premises that this theory promotes, that the material universe we occupy was created expressly as a teaching/training/testing ground for us people (beings). The science of our unseen co-dimension has the true infinite power that trumps the material forces in this universe, because the collective intelligence of the billions of Beings that have gone before us created and built this universe, or do you think this universe just appeared randomly? The entity we refer to as God, or any other name you prefer for the Divine Mind, is the creator of Love, Life and all the existential qualities of Being. Our true existence is a spiritual ball of energy, intelligence, intellect and love, intangible to material sense, and impervious to material forces, indestructible in this material dimension we currently are assigned to.

The “Big Bang Theory” would seem accurate, the Bible supports creation explicitly. Logic would ask the question, why would it take billions of years of evolution for the universe to be ready for us to occupy this temporary “home”. Would we build a new house for our family, then let it sit there for thousands of years before we move in? Science demonstrates that evolution is real and ongoing. Creation is also real based on the evidence in the material realm. The question is when? If the designers, engineers that created this universe are as good as the evidence shows they are, creation of our universe could be at any point along the 13 billion-year time line of the big bang expansion. Maybe the dinosaurs never walked on the earth? Their remains and evidence strategically placed to make us think they did. Carbon dating and all evidence is perfect to the laws of material science, that was designed in Heaven. The continents designed to look like they fit together at an early point, and expanding apart to fool us into thinking the Earth/Universe is older than it may be. The elegant design of this temporal material world points to the unbelievable expertise of God/Heaven/Home

If this material world is a result of elegant design, and exquisite execution of advanced technology, built by the Unseen Dimension, then is our conception of God accurate?

Heaven may be a singular entity, but is God a singular supreme entity? If so, what value could we Beings possibly add to it? We have created a Society here on Earth, are we mimicking what may be going on in the Unseen Dimension (UD)? Is our society here replicating what society in Heaven may actually be like? Logic would indicate that there is a growing diverse society of Beings, working in harmony as a perfect society should. There could also be multiple levels or dimensions that we could be assigned to as we progress in the Divine world.

If we make it back Home, passing all the tests we have been given here, are we adding our expertise to the society of Heaven? I would sure hope so, or our life in this dimension would be pointless. The evidence presented here would suggest that our conception of God and Heaven/Home is very limited and archaic.

Religion/Faith

Does this theory/article contradict religion? Absolutely not! Belief in a higher power is paramount to understanding an expanded view of life beyond our material universe. If evolution is part of the natural process of expanding intellect, then religions need to progress also. We need to pull all religion into the 21st century and beyond. All religions that promote positive lifestyle, morality and ideals should be embraced and supported. But all religion/beliefs must come to the realization that at some point we will have a true understanding of the reality of the unknown. At some point the science of Heaven will become apparent. We can either embrace or deny this premise, but we cannot stop the gaining momentum of scientific understanding of our true existence. We need to understand that our true identity as equal Beings allows us to demilitarize the war between differing beliefs, that if we all are striving to reach the “promised land” we need to respect each other and stop the hypocrisy in religion. We can view this as such – We are all climbing the mountain, albeit from different sides and perspectives. As long as the goal is pure, peaceful and moral. We can all succeed. Those that promote material goals and pursuit of evil outcomes are tumbling down the mountain into the abyss. We are either climbing the mountain, stuck in our tracks, or tumbling down. There are consequences for our actions or inactions.

Life

Life is the manifestation of Devine Science, executed in a material realm. All life on earth is the result of the processes and elements developed in Heaven, but executed on earth with material compounds and the environmental conditions specifically created to support it. From seeds, or cells multiplying, everything that grows or is born in this dimension is created by the advanced science of Heaven. We can't understand the process because of the limitations of our material senses, but we relish the bounty of what Heaven has given us. Material science will never be able to explain how life is executed in this dimension, because the process is not material in origin. Following materialism has only accelerated the destruction, and decay that mortal mind inflicts upon us. It's our fault for allowing this to continue. The poor state of our world is the result of following the wrong influencer. We are on the wrong path, but it is time to turn around and walk toward the light of true understanding.

Black Holes

<https://www.google.com/search?q=black+holes&oq=black+holes&aqs=chrome..69i57j0l7.6831j0j8&sourceid=chrome&ie=UTF-8>

This is crazy advanced material science and physics!
Everything (all matter) in proximity gets compressed and sucked into oblivion.
Does it come out somewhere else? Is it Armageddon? Why do they exist?

Or is it simply an extreme clue for us to understand.

Does anything in the Universe beyond our solar system affect our life here on Earth?

We need the SUN - and the Moon affects our tides. If a large asteroid were to crash into our planet, we have a serious problem. Other than that, NOTHING else in the Universe affects your life in any way! In a way it may all be irrelevant.

A black hole is simply a clue –
All matter gets sucked into nothingness. It doesn't go anywhere. It is for demonstration purposes only.

Condense this equation to:
Matter = Nothing

Our True reality is not material if it all can be sucked into nothingness.

It also is telling us – what we are looking for, the answers to the questions we have are not out here – turn around, go back – this is an extreme dead end!

Black holes actually support and demonstrate the premises of this Theory.

We gaze in Wonder at the Stars!

The immensity, beauty, and mystery of our universe has inspired us since the beginning. But does it really mean anything, or is it an immense distraction, created to confuse us? If it does not directly affect our lives here on Earth, I think it is a distraction, designed to confuse us into thinking there is something out there, that life comes from out there, when in fact it does not. The universe exists because of us beings, not we exist because of the universe.

Where are we going?

We are sent here to this existence for a reason. We are challenged and tested daily to see what obstacles we can overcome. We should be challenging ourselves as much as we can, and should also not be afraid of making mistakes, as long as we don't harm others. We should push to and beyond limits that may hinder, or hold us back - most of which are self-inflicted. We should live life to the fullest, but not at the expense of others. We are also being scored on our performance, for there is no free lunch. I know my own personal report card has lots of D's and F's. But the biggest challenge is to learn from our mistakes, admit when we are wrong, and apologize when we hurt others. Be confident, but humble, brave but restrained, happy and joyous because we know where we came from and it is GOOD. The goal is to get back Home. The path there is hard and confusing, and there is no road map, we have to define our own paths individually. Only YOU can deliver your own salvation, how well a job we do here is what dictates our future.

What is the definition of success in life?

Success | Definition of Success

The accomplishment of an aim or purpose.

Or

The attainment of popularity or profit

Summary

- 1) Someone was watching a young 2yr. old person standing next to his mother behind some parked cars. As I was driving down the street, I had no way of knowing the little boy was standing there. I have tried to imagine who that Being in Heaven was, but the idea of a grandmother, or great grandmother is what I always come back to. That person saw that I was driving down the street, and knew what the little boy was thinking of doing. Little boys are known to be very impulsive, and just before the child decided to sprint out into the street, whoever was watching broke the code of silence, and set me the telepathic thought - the idea "what if a small child ran out between those cars"? I was responsible for reacting in milliseconds to avert disaster. People in Heaven are watching us, and monitoring our thoughts.

- 2) Our connection to Heaven-Home is always on, through our thoughts and our 6th sense The Beings in heaven know what we are thinking of continuously.
- 3) Divine Intervention may only be possible through information, or influence to help a human being avert disaster. The person in heaven couldn't physically stop my truck, or keep the little boy from running out into the street. If a wing falls off an airplane in flight, unless the pilot can land safely, the plane will crash. No human can go outside and reattach the wing to the plane. In this example it is up to humans to examine the failure, and prevent it from happening again.
- 4) Miracles can change circumstances to avert disaster, but the evidence may be hard to find or understand afterwards. We may realize something extraordinary happened, but no concrete information may be present, unlike my experience.
- 5) Our conscious minds are the highest form of intelligence in this dimension (universe). There is absolutely no evidence to disprove this statement. There are no aliens. This universe was created as a material training ground for us – (Beings) period. If that is true the extended universe beyond our solar system would be irrelevant, beautifully fabricated to distract us into thinking it is real, but just a fabrication similar to UFO displays covered previously. Designed and executed to trick and deceive our material senses,
- 6) No being can die in this dimension, our bodies surely will, but our Beings, not constructed with matter, are impervious to any material force or action. We can hold a nuclear device in our human hand while it detonates, vaporizing all the matter of our bodies, but because our minds are not material, contain no matter to be destroyed, our Beings would not be affected in any way, other than to graduate us to our next assignment.
- 7) What does our portfolio consist of? Do you think our investment in material assets are positive or negative to our future success after our time here is over? How do you think billionaires who hoard assets for themselves are viewed in Heaven as they step over people living in the streets?
- 8) Where we go after our time here is over is out of our control. Our body of work, how we treat others, and our environment etc. will be used favorably, or negatively on our judgement day.

In order to address the multitude of critical issues we face as a society, where do we find the MORAL FORTITUDE to change the perception of what is valuable and what is no

We have been living life backwards, thinking that the Human is what is important. It is apparent to me that the Being is life, and should come first – hence the title of this article reverses this to the proper order:

Being Human
